Dany Average by Months.

The following figures sho wthe daily average for twenty-five months. For January, 1904, no report was made, as the reservoir was frozen over. The report for February 4-5 of that year is recorded as the January report:

1903—June, 59,579,900 gallons daily; July, 1929-3t

Stationed on Pennsylvania avenue there used to be a fat, jolly Hibernian answered, "Arrah, now, your honor, how policeman, with a brogue as thick as molasses in winter time. He was riding dence?" down the street one day when a man pretty good clip. The stout man from the land of the shamrocks immediately gave chase, and upon getting abreast of the motorist called out, "Shtop thot thing, will yez?" "What for?" was the answer hurled back at him. "Yez is goin' too faast," called the policeman in a menacing tone. "All right, I'll stop as soon as I can." was the answer. The thot; yez jist come along." The mo-torist told Pat that his wheel was
